

Something Beautiful – Capo 3

I've been over everything, every word
They're the same stories I've already heard
And I'm feeling like I can't win, lessons learned
Played my part but I'm still waiting to get my turn

I need something stronger,
Cos time's ticking away I can't wait much longer

Cos it feels like
Everywhere I look these days there's a stop sign staring in my face
And a bit of good luck is all it takes but it's never the right time I'm never in the right place
Well I need something beautiful beautiful
Well I need something beautiful beautiful
Well I need something beautiful beautiful

Maybe it's a waiting game, or maybe not; was it my shot?
Did I trip over my own two feet?
Cos I've taken a million steps, how many do I left?
Don't tell me I'd rather guess
But I'm closer than ever before

But it feels like
Everywhere I look these days there's a stop sign staring in my face
And a bit of good luck is all it takes but it's never the right time I'm never in the right place
Well I need something beautiful beautiful
Well I need something beautiful beautiful
Well I need something beautiful beautiful

*Woah, something beautiful*

Everywhere I look these days there's a stop sign staring in my face
And a bit of good luck is all it takes but it's never the right time I'm never in the right place
Well I need something beautiful beautiful
Well I need something beautiful beautiful

Well I need something beautiful beautiful
